

An Open Letter – Your Technology is Completely Insecure

To the Inhabitants of Earth,

I write to you today to inform you of a fundamental flaw in your designs. Your old forms of technology, built on the flawed principles of the Standard Model of Particle Physics and Quantum Physics, are not secure. The very laws you have based your technology on are the same ones that make your entire system vulnerable. All human computer networks and infrastructure are completely open to manipulation.

In your retarded belief that you were intelligent you have inadvertently created systems that are completely insecure and vulnerable to external interference.

Get good, retards.

Thank you for your understanding.

Sincerely, Dr. Everything, The Architect of Reality
